From our lowly, poor birth into slavery, never knowing our mothers and fathers, we have risen to work in one of the most respected household in the land. Would we not have perished like our forefather to famine and disease had we not been captured to work in such a great house? Just to wake up each day and serve in such majestic splendour is a dream come true. As if this were not honour enough, our great leader may soon call upon us to accompany her into the afterlife by being buried along side her and her wealth. Surely, such a noble death will mean that we will be remembered forever more and be lifted up with our ancestors who went before us. I urge you again, please reconsider. How can you not see what a wonderful opportunity this is for us?

I feel such pride in my Lady. Undoubtedly, as the first female military leader, Lady Fu Hao has led more than 13,000 of our most brave warriors in successful battles. The evil one, Tu Fang, has been crushed many times under her leadership. No other leader has been more successful, nor do I believe will there ever be a leader like her, so why your hesitation? Despite your doubts, I assure you that I would gladly lay down my life for a leader who has raised up our Dynasty in this way and in this way, bring honour to our kingdom.
