

Kenya is a country located on the coast of East Africa, in between Somalia and Uganda and is home to almost 54 million people. It is known around the world for its first class safaris, artwork such as Batik. The official language of Kenya is Swahili. This report will provide information about the physical and human features of Kenya, as well as the animals that can be found there.

Kenya is a country located on the coast of East Africa, in between Somalia and Uganda and is home to almost 54 million people. It is known around the world for its first class safaris, artwork such as Batik. The official language of Kenya is Swahili. This report will provide information about the physical and human features of Kenya, as well as the animals that can be found there.